

GUIDANT

CORPORATION ASSISTANTSHIP

DESCRIPTION

The Guidant Corporation Assistantship is a financial scholarship award for graduate study toward a Master of Software Engineering degree at Embry-Riddle University.

AWARD SUMMARY

Guidant Corporation Fellowship awards provide

- full tuition
- generous stipend
- laboratory and related fees
- book allowance
- summer internship

A number of Guidant Corporation Assistantships are available each year.

APPLICATION INFORMATION

Guidant Corporation Assistantships are highly competitive awards that require a distinguished undergraduate academic record. Consideration will be given to highly accomplished applicants, regardless of their undergraduate major, who have some background in computing and a strong interest in the application of computers to medicine. Preference will be given to applicants with an undergraduate degree in biomedical engineering, a physical or biological science, computer science, or electrical engineering.

RECIPIENT'S RESPONSIBILITIES

Guidant Corporation Assistantships involve a commitment of approximately 20 hours per week of research work in the Guidant supported laboratory on campus.

TO APPLY

To receive full consideration, simply complete an Application for Admission into the Master's Program in Software Engineering and indicate your interest in a Guidant Assistantship within your Statement of Objectives.

DEADLINE

Applications should be received by March 15th for admission in the fall semester.
